FPS Foundation Honors FHS Seniors

The Fremont Public School Foundation honored 61 Fremont High Seniors at the annual Academic Achievement Banquet, held April 21st at the Midland University Dining Hall. The banquet, which is in its ninth year, is sponsored by the Foundation as a means of honoring members of the graduating class who will graduate Cum Laude with distinction. The honored seniors have maintained a 3.75 grade point average throughout their high school career, and have earned their credits in selected course work representing the most academically rigorous curriculum the Fremont Public Schools have to offer. According to Foundation Executive Director, Dr. David Pinkall, this year's group is the largest group ever honored at the banquet. Also honored were the senior's selected faculty mentors.

Midland University President Dr. Ben Sasse, a 1990 FHS graduate, was the guest speaker and challenged students that they will need to continue to be aggressive learners throughout their entire careers. He cited current trends in society that will require those wishing to be successful to be committed to life-long learning. Sasse pointed out that rapidly developing technology has created a climate where today's students are likely to change entire careers several times during their lifetime. This will demand the ability for today's students to attack learning as aggressively as adults, as they have as fulltime students.

Students were presented back packs by the Foundation, and Teacher-mentors were also presented with a memento from the Foundation.★

Jim Ebers, a True Friend of Education

The Fremont Public Schools lost one of its strongest supporters when Jim Ebers died in December after a long battle with cancer. Most recently, Jim served on the board of the Fremont Public School Foundation, but it was his contribution as a volunteer and organizer during the last two successful bond campaigns that will likely be remembered as among his greatest contributions to the community he loved. Fremont Superintendent, Dr. Steve Sexton, put it this way:

"This winter the community lost a true diamond and most valued member of its family with the passing of Jim Ebers. Anyone who knew Jim also knew if they had a project to initiate and could convince Jim of the value of the undertaking to the community, then the initiative would invariably be a success. This success story became a reality wherever Jim was involved. It was especially true for Fremont Public Schools with the passage of a 29.9 million dollar bond issue in 2000 and the passing of a second major issue ten years later. These undertakings were largely successful because of Jim's involvement and his uncanny skills of organization and promoting shared involvement. It is said that no one is indispensable; I wonder? We do know one thing, and that is Jim will truly be missed by civic organizations, the school system, and the community at large."

Jim served faithfully on the Fremont Public School Foundation Board until he became too weak to continue. When he resigned from the board in October, he included a donation to the annual campaign with his resignation letter, and he remembered the Foundation in his estate plan with a generous gift.★

From the Executive Director's Desk

It would be easy to devote an entire edition of Cornerstone to the contributions of Jim Ebers to the children of Fremont. In addition to the very public things he did, such as his work on the bond issues for schools and the water park, there were many smaller, more private things; mentoring students, supporting the Boy Scouts, originating scholarships, the list goes on and on. It just didn't seem right for me to not use at least part of my space to acknowledge in a small way, his huge contributions to his community, and specifically to our school system. We have truly been blessed.

The Board of the FPS Foundation is currently working on an important fund-raising campaign that will be known as "i Give For iPads". The project, which will kick off this fall, will involve raising over $200,000 in order to provide iPads for student use at all FPS elementary schools. Helping the Fremont Public Schools to keep up with the rapidly changing technology needs of the District is a necessary and important challenge. It's all about preparing our students to compete in today's global society. It is our hope that FPS constituents and supporters will be prepared to join us in this ambitious endeavor. Look for a complete story in the Fall Cornerstone.★

Alumni Student Aid Fund Helps Deserving Students

The Alumni Student Aid Fund, originally initiated by Fremont High School alumni from the class of 1948, continues to make it possible for qualified Fremont High School graduates to pursue higher education. The program, headed up for many years by David Christensen (1948), is now administered by the Fremont Area Community Foundation. This year the Fund awarded a $3,000 grant to a 2013 graduate, and a $2,500 grant to a 2012 graduate to continue their studies. The program relies on support from Fremont Alumni to continue to grow and provide more help to deserving FHS graduates. Donations to the Fund can be made to the FPS Foundation, designated for the Alumni Student Aid Fund, or can be made directly to the Community Foundation. ★

Sensory Courtyard Project Achieves Matching Funds

The Sensory Courtyard project, a brainchild of Mary Robinson, a Teacher of the Blind & Visually Impaired, and a Certified Orientation & Mobility Specialist with Fremont Public Schools, has achieved the needed funding to qualify for a $75,000 matching grant from the Lions Clubs International Foundation. The project is approved by the Fremont Public Schools, and is funded through donations to the Fremont Public School Foundation. The funds needed for the matching grant were raised through donations, and a special Sensory Courtyard charity auction.

The courtyard will be constructed in the Lenihan Addition of the Main Street Education and Administration Center, and will consist of specialized areas, each designed to spark one or more of the five senses: Sight, Sound, Smell, Touch, and Taste. It will provide unique educational opportunities utilizing a specialized atmosphere of sensory stimulation and enhanced awareness. The courtyard is designed to aid those with special needs, including tactile defensiveness and/or those who might display a negative disposition in the classroom. While the courtyard has been designed to stimulate the senses for those who are visually impaired, Robinson is quick to point out that all students within the area will benefit from its availability. In addition to the Visually Impaired program, the Lenihan addition also houses several programs for students with special educational needs. Construction of the garden is expected to begin this fall. ★

FPS Foundation Receives Grant For Debate Team

The Fremont Area Community Foundation has granted $5,000 to the FPS Foundation towards the costs associated with the FHS Speech and Debate Team National Tournament Qualifiers. Eleven students from the Fremont Public Schools' speech and debate team qualified for three national tournaments that will be held in the spring and summer of 2013. The grant will ensure that all those who qualified for one or more national tournaments will be able to attend along with their coach and judges. ★

Send Us Your Email Address!

In an effort to hold down printing and mailing costs, we're asking our readers to send us their email address. We'll let you know by email when the Cornerstone is available for download, and we'll save about 97 cents for each reader who receives their copy electronically. With a mailing list of over 12,000, we can realize significant savings, which in turn can go to provide direct support for programs for the Fremont Public Schools, which is the mission of the FPS Foundation. Send us an email at foundation@fpsmail.org and we'll add you to our email distribution list. ★

Creative Teaching Grants for 2012-2013

Since the inception of the Creative Teaching Grants program, we have seen an increase in the number of applicants and, more importantly, the number of awards. This year was no exception, as we received 29 requests – our highest total yet. The requests were from all levels, subject areas and special groups, such as our literacy program, English Language Learners, and self-contained handicapped classrooms. A selection committee reviewed each application and made its final selections of the 17 winners. The newest trend is to request technology for the classroom, and we fulfilled as many of those wishes as were compatible with our network and which showed the greatest innovation in instruction. As the number of requests and grants has increased, so has the amount awarded; this year the total was $7550. These grants are made possible by memorials and other honorariums that are sent to the Fremont Public School Foundation and teachers are very grateful for your generosity.

We would like to honor those who received these awards and share a short summary of their requests so that you can see how they vary across ages, grades, and subject areas. All of our winners were very deserving and we are proud of their leadership in their classrooms.

Shelly Caskey and Jamie Schrader are two kindergarten teachers at Bell Field Elementary. They each received funds to make “literacy bags” to send home with students who are struggling with letter and sound recognition. With the materials in these bags, they can practice with parents, creating a strong bond between school and home. Two other kindergarten teachers were also selected for awards. Tina Kuddes was given funding for portable CD players and headphones for her reading and listening centers. Tina has applied for grants before and we appreciate how she is always looking for innovative strategies and materials. Nicole Dein was the recipient of an iPad for her classroom at Washington Elementary to assist her students with language and phonetic skills, as well as an introduction to technology. Two second grade teachers at Washington – Rebecca Nielsen and Clarissa Schumacher – also received iPads, identifying applications that will assist their limited English-speaking students in language acquisition, reading and writing skills. An iPad was also given to Megan Bunn, English Language Learners teacher at Fremont High School. Introducing her students to this technology and applications to assist their learning will be beneficial for them as they progress through high school and operate in the community at large.

The reading and math programs that have been established at all Fremont elementary schools have led teachers to seek additional supports for student assistance and improvement of instruction. For Lisa Manka and Emily Ridder, second grade teachers at Linden Elementary, the use of magnetic easels and letters was one innovative approach they chose and they were awarded those items. Diane Stevens, reading specialist, and Tricia Powell, special education teacher at Grant Elementary, received Leveled Literacy Intervention materials for kindergarten to develop letter and sound recognition for students as part of their early reading programs. In that same vein, the literacy coaches requested multiple sets of magnetic letters for the K-2 classrooms in all the elementary schools in the district. Christine Radcliff, fourth grade teacher at Milliken Park Elementary, chose materials to enhance math skills that will benefit her classroom as well as others in that building.

The Middle School had three award winners this year. Natalie Bohlken, who teaches seventh grade special education classes in reading and math, and Tammy Fitz, who teaches a self-contained program, were recipients of a document presenter. This technology allows them to use materials more effectively and interactively for group instruction and to share items that cannot be reproduced in other ways. The purchase of licenses for Adobe Photoshop was the request of Axton Kahler, art teacher. Not only will this software be available for art instruction and student use, it will also be available to other teachers and students throughout the school.

The winners this year, and all the winners in the past – as well as the students who have benefitted – thank those of you who have sent donations and memorials to the Fremont Public School Foundation. Without this program, there would be no way to offer this additional level of support for teachers who are seeking creative and innovative strategies to ensure that students are constantly improving and finding academic success. Our Foundation is proud of our educators and enjoys the opportunity to award these grants each year. Your continued support of the Creative Teaching Grants program, through memorials and honorariums, will keep this program viable for years to come. ★
